

Our mission is to inspire and educate our community by preserving and sharing our art and history.

Description: Are you currently enrolled in teacher's college and want to experience more hands on teaching experience and lesson planning? At Museum London, about 8,000 students visit each year. This is a great opportunity to work with a diverse student population. We offer programs for students in grades K-12, giving student teachers the opportunity to work with grades they may not have worked with before. Our tours are based on an experiential learning model and focus on the curriculum appropriate for each grade. We also focus a considerable amount of attention on students with special learning needs and help develop programming and teacher resources. Students will have the opportunity to work with a variety of people, as well as a variety of technologies.

Commitment: Training will be provided on Monday mornings – or at another mutually convenient time. Museum London offers its education programming Tuesday-Friday throughout the school year (September-June). Student teacher candidates would make a commitment to volunteer one half day per week as needed. There would be flexibility in this arrangement.

Location: All volunteer shifts will be worked on-site at Museum London (421 Ridout Street North, London, ON) unless otherwise notified.

Training: Student Teachers will be trained by the Curator of Education and other Curators on-site at the Museum. Student Teachers will also be required to do reading (about exhibitions) on their own time.
