Accessible Customer Service Policy

1. Purpose / Background Information

The Accessibility for Ontarians with Disabilities Act, 2005 (the “AODA”) is a Provincial Act with the purpose of developing, implementing and enforcing accessibility standards in order to achieve accessibility for persons with disabilities with respect to goods, services, facilities, accommodation, employment, buildings, structures and premises.

Under the AODA, Ontario Regulation 429/07 entitled “Accessibility Standards for Customer Service” came into force on January 1, 2008. That Regulation establishes accessibility standards specific to customer service for public sector organizations and other persons or organizations that provide goods and services to members of the public or other third parties.

This policy is drafted in accordance with the Accessibility Standards for Customer Service (Ontario Regulation 429/07) and addresses the following:

- a) The provision of goods and services to persons with disabilities;
- b) The use of assistive devices by persons with disabilities;
- c) The use of service animals by persons with disabilities;
- d) The use of support persons by persons with disabilities;
- e) Notice of temporary disruptions in services and facilities;
- f) Training;
- g) Customer feedback regarding the provision of goods and services to persons with disabilities; and
- h) Notice of availability and format of documents.

2. Application

This policy applies to all persons who deal with members of the public or other third parties on behalf of Museum London, whether the person does so as an employee, agent, volunteer, student on placement, or otherwise and all persons who participate in developing Museum London's policies, practices and procedures governing the provision of goods and services to members of the public or other third parties.

3. Definitions

4. Policy Statement

Museum London is committed to providing quality goods and services that are accessible to all persons that we serve.

5. General Principles

a. The Provision of Goods and Services to Persons with Disabilities

Museum London will use reasonable efforts to ensure that its policies, practices and procedures are consistent with the following principles:

- a) Museum London's goods and services are provided in a manner that respects the dignity and independence of persons with disabilities;
- b) The provision of Museum London's goods and services to persons with disabilities are integrated with those provided to persons who do not have disabilities unless an alternative measure is necessary to enable a person with a disability to obtain, use or benefit from Museum London's goods or services and,
- c) Persons with disabilities are given an opportunity equal to that of persons without disabilities to obtain, use or benefit from Museum London's goods and services.

b. Communication with Persons with Disabilities

When communicating with a person with a disability, Museum London will do so in a manner that takes into account the person's disability.

c. Notice of Temporary Disruptions in Services and Facilities

Museum London is aware that the operation of its services and facilities is important to the public. However, temporary disruptions in Museum London's services and facilities may occur due to reasons that may or may not be within Museum London's control or knowledge.

Museum London will make reasonable effort to provide notice of the disruption to the public, including information about the reason for the disruption, its anticipated duration, and a description of alternative facilities or services, if any, that may be available. Museum London will make reasonable effort to provide prior notice of planned disruption if possible, recognizing that in some circumstances such as in the situation of unplanned temporary disruption, advance notice will not be possible. In such cases, Museum London will provide notice as soon as possible.

When temporary disruptions occur to Museum London's services or facilities, Museum London will provide notice by posting the information in visible places, or on Museum London's website (www.museumlondon.ca), or by any other method that may be reasonable under the circumstances as soon as reasonably possible.

d. Assistive Devices and other Measures that Assist with Accessibility

A person with a disability may provide their own assistive device for the purpose of obtaining, using and benefiting from Museum London's goods and services. Exceptions may occur in situations where Museum London has determined that the assistive device may pose a risk to the health and safety of a person with a disability or the health and safety of others on the premises.

In these situations and others, Museum London may offer a person with a disability other reasonable measures to assist him or her in obtaining, using and benefiting from Museum London's goods and services, where Museum London has such other measures available.

It should be noted that it is the responsibility of the person with a disability to ensure that his or her assistive device is operated in a safe and controlled manner at all times.

e. Service Animals

Persons with a disability may enter premises owned and operated, or operated, by Museum London accompanied by a service animal and keep the animal with them if the public has access to such premises and the animal is not otherwise excluded by law. If a service animal is excluded by law, Museum London will ensure that alternate means are available to enable the person with a disability to obtain, use or benefit from Museum London's goods and services.

If it is not readily apparent that the animal is a service animal, Museum London may ask the person with a disability for a letter from a regulated health professional confirming that the person requires the animal for reasons relating to his or her disability. Museum London may also, or instead, ask for a valid identification card signed by the Attorney General of Canada or a certificate of training from a recognized guide dog or service animal training school.

It should be noted that it is the responsibility of the person with a disability to ensure that his or her service animal is kept in control at all times.

f. Support Persons

A person with a disability may enter premises owned and operated, or operated, by Museum London with a support person and have access to the support person while on the premises.

Museum London may require a person with a disability to be accompanied by a support person while on Museum London premises in situations where it is necessary to protect the health or safety of the person with a disability or the health and safety of others on the premises. Before making a decision to require a support person, Museum London must:

- a) Consult with the person with a disability to understand their needs.
- b) Consider health or safety reasons based on the available evidence.
- c) Determine if there is any other reasonable way to protect the health or safety of the person or others on the premises.

A support person, when assisting a person with a disability to obtain, use or benefit from Museum London's goods and services, will be permitted to attend at no charge where an admission fee is applicable.

g. Feedback

Museum London is committed to providing high quality goods and services to all members of the public it serves. Feedback from the public is welcomed as it may identify areas that require change and encourage continuous service improvements.

Feedback from a member of the public about the delivery of goods and services to persons with disabilities may be given by telephone, in person, in writing, in electronic format or through other methods. On request, the feedback process will be provided in a format that takes a person's disability into account.

Information about the feedback process will be readily available to the public and notice of the process is posted on Museum London's website (www.museumlondon.ca) and/or in other appropriate locations.

h. Training

Museum London will ensure that Museum London employees, volunteers and workers are trained on accessible customer service and how to interact with people with different disabilities as required by the Accessibility Standards for Customer Service. The amount and format of training given will be tailored to suit each person's interactions with the public and his or her involvement in the development of policies, procedures and practices pertaining to the provision of goods and services.

The content of the training will include:

- a) A review of the purposes of the AODA;
- b) The requirements of the Accessibility Standards for Customer Service (Ontario Regulation 429 / 07);
- c) Instruction on Museum London's policies, procedures and practices pertaining to the provision of goods and services to persons with disabilities;
- d) How to interact and communicate with persons with various types of disabilities;
- e) What to do if a person with a particular type of disability is having difficulty accessing the Museum London's goods or services;
- f) How to interact with persons with disabilities who use assistive devices or who require the assistance of a support person or service animal; and
- g) Information about the equipment or devices available on the Museum London's premises that may help with the provision of goods or services to persons with disabilities.

Timeline for Training

Training will be provided as soon as practicable upon an individual being assigned the applicable duties as well as on an ongoing basis as changes occur to Museum London's policies, procedures and practices governing the provision of goods or services to persons with disabilities.

Records of Training

Museum London will keep records of the training, including the date on which training is provided and the number of individuals to whom it is provided. The names of individuals trained will be recorded for training administration purposes, subject to the Municipal Freedom of Information and Protection of Privacy Act (MFIPPA).

6. Availability and Format of Documents Required by the Accessibility Standards for Customer Service (Ontario Regulation 429/07)

All documents required by the Accessibility Standards for Customer Service, including the Museum London's Accessible Customer Service policies, procedures and practices, notices of temporary disruptions, training records, and written feedback process are available upon request, subject to MFIPPA.

When providing a document to a person with a disability, Museum London will provide the document, or the information contained in the document, in a format that takes the person's disability into account.

7. Notice of the Availability of Documents

Notice of the availability of all documents required by the Accessibility Standards for Customer Service is posted on Museum London's staff notice boards.
